

Rahanni in 2024 and Beyond.

Many changes are happening on a daily basis on this planet and beyond. Majority of these changes we can see and hear, some are frustrating as they are connected to a lower vibration and as empaths we feel these within every aspect of our being. Those people that are not so connected to spirituality or understand about higher and lower vibrations become fearful and possibly angry.

We as Rahanni Practitioners/ Teachers understand the bigger picture and we so want to help those that are continuing to be in fear and feeling lost right now and are possibly wondering what is 2024 going to bring through next.

My beautiful Guides offer some information that may help to release those fears and create a much more positive mind set.

I have written below some situations to offer clients or students to help them have a little more understanding and what we, as Rahanni Practitioners/ Teachers already know or feel within our own hearts. I hope this information helps, but just take into your heart only that which resonates with you and let the rest go.

Because of all the changes taking place on the planet with regards to vibrations, the lower energies are leaving and being replaced by higher vibrations, this also has an effect to the 5th Dimensional healing of Rahanni, therefore you could possibly find your clients absorb more healing Light on a deeper level, cutting down the amount of time it takes for a session/s. The amount of the Rahanni healing vibration has now risen to a higher level and don't be surprised if you see instant healing, mentally as well as emotionally and physically. It is also noticeable when healing yourself, the changes can be instant as I have found out myself whilst working with issues I have had to deal with over the past 3 months. I won't go into too much detail as it is personal for me and my family but all I will say is my husband had been so ill in November with 2 hospital stays, we were told to expect the worse as he wasn't expected to make it through for Christmas. Well let me tell you the Rahanni healing from myself, family and friends got him through, we managed Christmas Day in Suffolk at one of my daughters and he is eating really well, putting on a few pounds, where he had lost 4 stone previously. The Doctors do not know how he pulled through but it wasn't his time to go home and with the healing, Love and Light this all added to his recovery.

So let me tell you how Rahanni is changing; it is purely the vibration that has been enhanced, where it can connect to the 6th Dimension, creating an easier connection to the Rahanni Guides, Angels and all Higher Beings of Love and Light. So how will you feel these changes? First your intuition will be heightened, via your 3rd eye and the 'gut' feeling in the Solar Plexus. Never go against that feeling as this is a soul connection to your physical and mental body. The Pineal gland is expanding bringing forward Silver Light and more in-depth spiritual knowledge. The Blue Ray of healing Light plus the Adamantine Particles will join forces creating joy in your hearts, especially when in nature, as you will become more aware of the importance of the healing Light of nature, animals, trees, rivers and all life on this planet.

Your thought patterns will change, you will begin to speak your truth, but from your heart without any anger, just a calmer feeling within yourself of getting a message across in a loving way, but staying true to what you believe in your own heart. You will be releasing anything or anyone that no longer serves your higher purpose, without judgement of course, for you know in your heart these changes are for you progression and to move forward with your life in whatever way feels right for you. As you release, this clears a space for new people or information to come into your life. You could also feel, either with yourself or via others, instant karma; for whatever you give out will return instantly; make sure everything is from your heart. The chakras will eventually become one rather than individual as we have always known them to be. The heart and throat chakras have already joined together in Golden White Light, Christ Consciousness, as we continue to speak from the heart. You may have a few issues with the throat as the joining together takes place, nothing drastic just a few little niggles, possibly wear a crystal pendant that can resonate with the throat.

Just to mention a little about the children wanting to be here on Earth at this most amazing time; they are very connected spiritually and you are possibly aware of the Holy Innocents [see paperwork on my website] these beautiful souls are speaking their truth, they communicate at a very early age but they are not happy with loud noises, as their hearts are of a calmer understanding. They love the outdoors, nature and animals. They are very artistic in many ways and many of them will draw profound pictures, signs and symbols and you may have difficulty understanding, but just ask them and they will explain what they are trying to get you to see. They will speak very early on in their development but that is normal for these Holy Innocents. They are full of fun, laughter and very loving. It is a joy watching them as they begin their amazing journey of discovery here on Earth, and for many of them, it is their very first incarnation, so be prepared for a dislike of certain foods, they are so aware of what is right for them, so please don't force food into them that you think is right, just listen to what they ask for, it may surprise you. Organic is best but we understand not everyone can afford the extra costs; maybe grow your own and let them have a little veg plot of their own, they will love to be involved.

2024 will be an amazing journey for every human on this planet and what you give out will return, make sure you offer love, compassion and truth from your heart. The healing Light of Rahanni will grow with all Practitioners and Teachers to the level that is appropriate for each and every one of you. Don't force this growth, just let it happen naturally for the Rahanni Higher Beings of Love and Light, know exactly how to work with each one. Just stay heart centred that is all they ask and speak your truth with love and compassion.

Much Love, thank you for all that you have done and continue to do in the name of Rahanni.
Enjoy the journey of 2024 and beyond.
